Card of Thanks to Dr Chong.

AFTER BEING TREATED FIVE MONTHS by a white doctor, and spending nearly $300, I was worse than when I first went to him. I had quite despaired of being relieved when I read Dr Chong's Card in THE COLONIST. I placed myself under his care and in NINE DAYS I was a well man. I write this card to dk charge a debt of gratitude I owe to Dr Chong, which charge, I may also say, was reasonable. My complaint was neuralgia. WILLIAM MCCORMICK.

C. FRANCIS BARNARD, MD.

SURGEON DENTIST.

DR. BARNARD HAS HAD FOR several months the "Perkins Hyatt" or "Celluloid Base," the newest and latest material adapted to the mounting of whole sets of teeth; he is also using "Whalebone-Rubber," which is rapidly supplanting, for single dentures or partial sets, the best vulcanites of the last 25 years.

We cheerfully add Dr. B's Card to our columns, convinced that his good taste and judgment, united to natural skill and fugonuity, aided by an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, render his services more valuable and reliable than those of any other Dentist on the Sound, Coast or Island.

Dr. B's large experience may be readily seen in the happy and natural expression given his patrons by his life-like insertion of artificial Teeth.

The public may rest assured of patience, gentleness and undivided attention while under the Dr's hands, and that he will ever strive to be foremost in adopting helps and hints touching his own interest and that of his patrons.

THE BRITISH COLONIST.

Wednesday Morning, July 3, 1872.

Esquimalt vs. Burrard Inlet.

Last week we had occasion to point out what appeared to be weak points in the case made out for Burrard Inlet as against Esquimalt as the Western Terminus of the Railway, by the Member for New Westminster in the Canadian House of Commons. The Herald replies to us in a leading article and in an anonymous communication. The literary ability of our contemporary has often excited admiration, even although misdirected; and we cannot resist the temptation to place the peroration of the leading article referred to before our readers:—'No, people of Victoria; what you have been told before—what the cataracts that leap straight down to the sea from the snow-clad summits of Bute Inlet Mountains tell you—what the roaring tide-rips and frowning bluffs of Seymour Narrows tell you—what the broad, bright waters of the Gulf of Georgia, that roll between you and the Mainland, tell you—what the Engineers will shortly tell you—we tell you now: Misconstrue facts and coin arguments as you may, exhaust yourselves in frantic struggles against the stern decrees of Nature as you may, no locomotive of the Canadian Pacific will ever waken with its shrill whistle the echoes of that wind-swept rock yoleped Victoria City.' Now this is grand;—what Josh Billings would probably designate 'tall writing,'—such as befits the grandeur of the scenery by which the writer was surrounded—'Mountains capped with eternal snow,' 'the mighty Fraser,' and all the rest of it. But then, it isn't argument. There was certainly no attack intended upon the member for New Westminster; or any desire to belittle his efforts at Ottawa. On the contrary, everyone must admire the zeal, pluck and ability with which Mr Nelson contended for the interests of his constituents: and New Westminster would be ungrateful, indeed, if she failed fittingly to recognize his services. But, in dealing with a great national question, such as the Canadian Pacific Railway, it would be well to endeavor as far as possible to rise above local, sectional prejudices. It is not usual to notice anonymous communications; but, inasmuch as the Herald endorses its correspondent, an exception may be made in this instance. The Admiralty chart is called up to prove that the distance between Esquimalt and Burrard Inlet, 'as ships sail,' is seventy-eight miles, instead of one hundred and twenty. Taking the Rosario channel,—the great international channel contended for—it will be found on a careful measurement, that, 'as ships sail' the distance will not fall much short of one hundred and twenty miles. But our contemporary evidently prefers the shorter voyage through the Haro Strait. But what says Captain Richards, the highest and most impartial authority about that channel? 'The depth of water is so great that it is impossible to anchor, and sailing vessels may frequently be set back into Fuca Strait, thus entailing great delay as well as risk.' Surely this is not the kind of navigation it is desirable to encounter in order to reach the terminus of a great highway for the nations. But what we most condemn in our contemporary is that it should be found willing to traduce Esquimalt in order to build up Burrard Inlet. In dealing with Burrard Inlet and the way to it, we have always preferred to let such high authority as Capt. Richards speak, fearing that our own opinions might possibly be open to the suspicion of sectional bias. But our up-river contemporary (or its correspondent, which amounts to the same thing in this instance) appears to be hampered by no such delicacy. It does not hesitate to describe Esquimalt as "a pretty little place, about the size a respectable mill-pond." Now, Capt. Richards says "Esquimalt Harbor is a safe and excellent anchorage for ships of any size, and with the aid of the light on Fisgard Island may be entered at all times with great facility." The Minister of Works for the Dominion, in his able report, says of it:—"The harbor of Esquimalt is considered the best harbor on the Pacific coast, north of San Francisco. It is well lighted and may be entered with facility either by day or by night, in fine or in stormy weather. It is the Canadian harbor at which the Pacific Squadron of the British Navy is stationed. It has an almost even depth of thirty-six feet; the bottom is excellent, and the harbor is perfectly safe and sheltered. Here fifty vessels of the line might anchor with ease." And yet, in the face of such high and disinterested authority, our up-river contemporary so far forgets itself and what is due to the great national question involved as to describe the Pacific harbor of the Dominion as a 'mill-pond'! For shame! Could sectional prejudice carry a writer further? Now, in all the controversy, we have carefully avoided saying anything in disparagement of Burrard Inlet as a harbor; but we may now be permitted to let Capt. Richards speak to that point:—'The strength of tide in the narrowest part of the first narrows is from four to eight knots. The only directions necessary for a steamer are to keep the south shore aboard and to be quick and careful with the helm; small craft may go through with ease the tide being favorable; to a sailing ship a knowledge of the locality is necessary, as well as a commanding breeze, and it should never be attempted with the full strength of the stream.' And this is the harbor, in order to reach which Esquimalt, that 'may be entered at all times with great facility,' is to be passed and one hundred miles of difficult and dangerous navigation encountered! It is, indeed, difficult to conceive how an intelligent mind could be worked up to such a belief. Commerce cannot be driven from its natural channels—even by the pen of our contemporary.

To the Electors of Victoria District

Including Victoria City, Victoria District, Esquimalt and Metchosin:

GENTLEMEN:—In a short time you will be called upon to elect two members to represent you in the House of Commons, and as many Electors have expressed to me a desire that I should offer myself as a candidate for that honorable position, I now solicit your suffrages, assuring you that, if elected, no effort on my part shall be spared to advance your interests at Ottawa, or to assist in legislating for the advancement of the whole Dominion. Politically I am in favor of giving a generous support to the present Canadian Administration, and should strongly advocate the national importance of the Railroad being terminated at Esquimalt. I should urge the establishing of a Quarantine Hospital at once; the opening of an Immigration Agency at Victoria, the building of a Lighthouse at the entrance to, and the dredging of Victoria Harbor. I should endeavor, if necessary, to obtain an increased guarantee for the Dry Dock, and should point out the benefits and importance of completing the Railroad from the Pacific to Lake Superior (at least) in the shortest possible time From present information upon the subject it appears there is little prospect of both Houses being in session this year at the same time, but should it prove otherwise, and should I be elected to the Commons, I should feel in honor bound (although with great reluctance) to resign my present seat in the Local House, and enable another representative to take my place.

I remain respectfully your obd't servant,
je29 ROBERT BEAVEN.

A CARD.

A REPORT HAVING BEEN CIRCUlated that if elected to the Commons I intend permanently leaving this Province, I wish distinctly to state that there is not the least truth in any such report, my intention being to remain a resident of this Province whether elected or otherwise.

Electors Victoria District.

INCLUDING Victoria City, Victoria District, Esquimalt and Metchosin:—By the local papers of to day I see that there is a third "Richmond in the field" to represent us in the Commons Parliament. Would it not be well, before we give the cold shoulder to our present representatives, (who, I believe, have faithfully served us) not to listen to any new love until we have had an account of the stewardship of our present members.

Biding the time

MR. NATHAN, M. P.

This gentleman will be a Candidate for e-slection to the Commons for Victoria City.

Dominion Day.

FIREMEN'S PIC-NIC.

At an early hour on the morning of Monday, the town looked gay with bunting, every house that can boast of a flagstaff displaying the colors of the different nations represented by their respective owners and occupants.

All the shops were closed at an early hour, everyone being determined to enjoy the anniversary of the birth of the Dominion of Canada as a holiday.

Contrary to the prognostications of all weatherwise persons the weather proved glorious. At 11:45 a. m., the Deluge Company left their engine-house and marched to those of the Tiger and Hook & Ladder Companies, picking up the members of each of those companies at their respective engine-houses. At the corner of Fort and Government streets the entire brigade was inspected by the Chief Engineer, First Assistant and the Foremen. They were then joined by the Board of Delegates and ex-Chiefs Kriemler and Duck, the brigade saluting them as they passed. The march was then continued to the ground kindly lent for the occasion by Sir James Douglas, K.C.B.

He must indeed have been hard to please who was not satisfied with the lovely spot. The arrangements were admirable and the decorations gorgeous. The burning rays of the mid day sun were pleasantly broken by the cool shade cast by the trees and the soft, balmy breezes which swept over the ground.

As soon as the procession arrived at the ground the games commenced. The contests were good; F. Norris and H. Price particularly distinguishing themselves. The pig race caused great amusement to those who participated in it some 250 in number, as well as to the bystanders.

A spacious platform had been erected by the Committee and dancing was vigorously prosecuted to a late hour, to the music of Haynes' Band, which we must acknowledge, was very creditable.

At about 4 p. m, His Excellency the Governor accompanied by Mrs Trutch, Miss Pinder, Capt Cator, R N, Mrs Spalding, Hons. J. F. McCreight and G. A. Walkem, arrived on the ground and were received by the Band playing the National Anthem. They then took part in the opening quadrille, His Excellency dancing with Mrs. Dr. Powell, with Hon. J. F. McCreight and Mrs. Trutch as vis-a-vis, the Hon. G. A. Walkem and Mrs. Spalding, Capt. Cator and Mrs. Pickett completing the set.

The following is the list of contests and the names of the winners:—

Standing Long Jump:—1st Prize, Smythe, 10ft 9¾in; 2nd, H Price, 10ft 6in.

Running Long Jump:—1st prize, W Snider, 15ft 5½in; 2nd, H Price, 14ft 5in.

Standing High Jump:—1s prize, H Price, 3ft 10in; 2nd, Hamilton, 3ft 10in.

Running High Jump:—1-t prize, Smythe, 4ft 7in; 2nd, Hamilton, 4 t 4in.

Hop, Step and Jump:—1st prize, Robertson, 34ft 9in.

ESQUIMALT PUBCIC SCHOOL.—The labors of the Board of Education and their indefatigable Superintendent (Mr Jessop) are duly appreciated in Esquimalt District, which has for some time enjoyed the advantages of a public school under an efficient teacher. On Tuesday a general Examination of the School was held, and it was afterwards visited by the Rev. F B Gribbell, Chas E Pooley and J. Dobinson, Esqs. the District Trustees, who severally addressed the scholars, urging the importance of regular attendance at School and close attention to the instructions and admonitions of their teacher Suitable prizes were awarded by the Chairman (Mr Pooley) and the School was then dismissed for the summer holidays. The Schoolhouse was tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and the girls and boys, who number about 34, all appeared happy and joyous.

Birthrights.

[From N.Y. Tribune]

A certain Mr. Laurcody, in England, has been recently setting forth with just the possibility that women can not only appear "as professional cutters-off of babies' legs," "but professional shooters and stabbers "of invaders of their homes;", or, in plain English, soldiers and sailors. Whereupon The Pall Mall Gazette gives an absolutely new turn to this worn-out topic by bringing the rights of unborn babies on the stage. The reason, it affirms, why genius in a man is alway inherited from the mother, and that the children of clever men are usually fools, is that men, by the incessant use of their intellectual and nervous power in their business and professions, exhaust that vitality which lying dormant in the woman, is transmitted to her offspring. "It women, then," it argues, "are to be thrown into the exhausting struggle, which is existence to men of the higher faculty, there will remain no abundant, undistributed scource of mental force from which the next generation can draw." How much scientific basis there is for this argument, the condition of American inherited neural deseases may show; the gradual deterioration from generation to generation, not in intellectual but nervous power, as our women take wider part in the universal struggle. Whether mind or body diminishes first in this inheritance given to us by our parents matters little, the man owes little gratitude to father and mother for the master's brain if they have failed to bequeath the Berserker marrow of their sires, but give instead "the ebbing veins, inconstant head and nerveless veins which among the gladiators leaves him halt and numb." There is, too, the further consideration that after the mother, overworked at desk or office, has given birth to a child, tried before it begins life, she has neither time nor mind to spare to him for the purpose of repairing damages. The mother of every animal gives her strength, her habits, her very nature to her young, by brooding over them. But how much time for brooding do many of the mothers of to-day have?

After all, there is the other side of the question yet to hear on behalf of the babies. Facts are facts; and women of the laboring and middle classes, by the time she drudges over her housework, or drudges over those who profess to do it, sews, stints, manœuvers, day in and out, to make one dollar take the place of ten, has no more time for "brooding" over her children that if she made the lacking nine dollars behind a desk or counter. The majority of children are shunted off to schools for mental and religious training, while the mother finds their stomachs and backs as much as she can attend to. She may plausibly suggest, too, that her wearing routine of petty work is quite as exhausting on nervous or intellectual vitality as the nobler employments of her husband, and is apt to defraud the next generation. The sum of the whole matter seems to be that the prospects for this next important on of humanity are depressing. Trailing clouds of glory they may come, but it is to be feared in very debilitated human garments. The Pall Mall Gazette, philosophically oracular, declares that to insure the renewal of our race, in brain and body, requires that part of least of mankind shall remain fallow ground and enjoy universal rest for one long generation. If this truth were clearly understood, would the contest between men and women become, not which should vote or work, but which take holiday—"loaf and invite their souls," solely for the benefit of posterity?

100,000 Sunday School children have each sent five cents towards the erection of Mr. Moody's Free Tabernacle in Chicago, thus producing $5,000.

What the Weak Need.

Why do the debilitated and feeble dread the summer as it is because heat is an exhausting element and they are not in a condition to bear the new drain upon their languid systems, which they think must necessarily commence with the warm weather. But can of this evil be obviated? Most indubitably it can. What these weaklings need—in fact, what nine-tenths of us need at this season—is an accession of physical vigor, and this desideratum can be secured, with absolute certainty, by a course of the mightiest, yet mildest of all vegetable tonics, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Thousands of men of business, mechanics and professional men, break down partially or wholly, under their summer labors, simply because they have neglected to reinforce the powers of nature in this way. To persons who use the celebrated invigorant and corrective regularly in hot weather, the exhaustion which excessive heat is apt to produce under other circumstances is unknown. They are not troubled with nausea, their appetites are good their digestion excellent and their habit of body all that can be desired. This for twenty years been the uniform testimony of all who have taken the Bitters as a summer tonic and alterative. Its efficacy is due to the care and scrupulous fidelity to the teachings of experimental science, with which its medecinal ingredients have been culled from the vegetable kingdom, the admirable proportions in which they are combined and the unequalled purity of its stimulative basis.

Our Ottawa Letter.

Since my last letter the public business in Parliament has made such satisfactory progress that the Prime Minister was enabled to state on Saturday that he hoped that the entire work of the session would be brought to a close on Thursday next, the 13th. On that day, therefore, it is expected that the Governor-General will come down and prorogue the House, and the First Parliament of the Dominion of Canada will then be at an end. The act of prorogation terminating, as it does, the life of Parliament, will also terminate Lord Lisgar's official connection with this country, as he takes his departure for England on the 22d and, it is believed, that at that time his successor, Lord Dufferin, will not be far off, as he is to sail for Canada on the 13th. Lord Lisgar, both personally and officially, has made an excellent Governor, and I am glad to know that the citizens of Montreal are about to mark their appreciation of his urbane and constitutional rule by entertaining him at a grand banquet before he finally takes his leave of us. Lord Dufferin, the Governor General elect, is doubtless well known to your readers, both by political as well as literary fame. His "Letters from High Latitudes" and his contributions to British periodicals having given him an undoubted claim to the latter distinction. As a private gentleman and a landlord he is exceedingly well spoken of in Ireland, so that, all things considered, Canadians will have no occasion to regret the change which is about to take place at Rideau Hall.

The resume which I gave you, in my last letter, of the work performed during the present session of Parliament was so exhaustive that I find that I have little to add to it. The only measure which has since engaged the attention of the "assembled wisdom" being the Representation Bill, respecting which, as it does not concern British Columbia, you will take but little interest in. The two great achievements, in a minis erial point of view, were undoubtedly the carrying of the Washington Treaty and of the Pacific Railway Bills, both of which, as they have now gone through the Senate, may be considered as forming a part of the law of the land. In my former communication I think I referred to the able speeches delivered in the Commons on the Treaty and the railroad by Messrs Nelson, DeCosmos, Wallace and Thompson. If I did not do so it was a great oversight on my part, for certainly the utterances of these gentlemen, brimful, as they were, of fact and argument, were well entitled to special and honorable mention at the hands of your correspondent; and as I am on the subject, I may observe that, during the short debates, if the desultory conversations which took place in the Senate may be dignified by that name, two of the most important speeches delivered in that body on the occasions referred to emanated from Hon. Messrs Carrall and Macdonald; Dr Carrall's speech on the Railway and the advantages it would confer on the whole of United Canada being specially commented on and admired. Mr Cornwall did not speak on either the Railway or the Treaty, and many of the Senators were disappointed that he did not; as, from the excellent reputation he has acquired here, he seems to command the respect and confidence of all parties; and, as I have before remarked, the same may be said of many of your representatives.

In connection with the good work done at Ottawa since they came here, the people of British Columbia must not omit, when opportunity offers to acknowledge in a fit and proper manner, the services of their members in securing appropriations from Parliament for the prosecution of public works and other objects of utility in the Province. The estimates, brought down by the Minister of Finance form the most eloquent and lasting tribute to their zeal and untiring energy in this respect, the items figuring therein for the benefit of British Columbia being "neither few nor far between."

The newspapers will have informed you of the gloom which has been cast over the House of Commons during the past week by the death of two of its members, Hon John Sandfield Macdonald, M.P. for Cornwall, and Mr Robert Macfarlane, M.P. for South Perth, both able and deserving men whose loss is much deplored; the former more particularly as he had been a member of the Canadian Parliament since the Union of 1841, and had filled various high positions (on two occasions being Premier of Provincial Governments) with considerable advantage to the country.

Parliament being so near its close the members are beginning to scatter near and far. Mr Wallace left for home on Saturday. Messrs Nelson and Cornwall took their departures this evening—the former proceeding to New York, where he will embark for England, and the latter returning to British Columbia. Mr Macdonald leaves on Wednesday for the same destination as Mr Nelson. Mr Nathan goes to New York on the following day, and may possibly also depart for the Mother Country. Dr Carrall pays a brief visit to Quebec, after which he purposes leaving for home. Mr DeCosmos, I understand, intends seeing his friends in Nova Scotia ere he returns. Capt Haughton goes to Western Ontario for a brief spell, and Mr Thompson may possibly accompany this letter and be with you as soon as it. CANUCK.

QUESNELLE, June 29—Frightful news from Omineca. Gardiner arrived at 10 p. m. yesterday bringing in the news from Omineca that 13 persons were poisoned by eating supposed mushrooms; ten of them were alive on the discovery. The fatal three who died from the effects of poison known, are David Humphreys of Lexington, Ky,; Capt Mann, a native of New York, and a Mr Cook, of Victoria, whose family came to reside there; he was formerly of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr McIntosh and several others are dangerously ill but are recovering.

Gardiner left Germansen Creek on the 23d and made the trip to Quesnelle in six days on foot.

The Germansen and Black Jack Companies are making from an ounce to $25 per day to the hand; others are making from $20 to $30 per day to the hand; others again are doing very well. J Fetch was bringing in a ditch; other companies are making preparations to prospect.

Bill Cass has started out prospecting to Lizard River, via the Rocky Mountains.

The trail is nearly clear of snow; travelling good.

Judge Fitzgerald had some men clearing the trail from Mansen to Germansen Creek, which, when completed, the distance will be made in two days.

There are six or seven hundred miners on the various creeks, and the prospects for gold are good.

California.

A most disgraceful scene occurred at Platt's Hall last night. Mrs. Loomis was lecturing against woman suffrage, and was repeatedly interrupted with hisses and jeering remarks by the leading woman suffragists who were present evidently for the purpose of breaking up the meeting. Assemblyman Meeker finally addressed Mrs Emily Pitt Stevens, telling her that she was behaving herself most disgracefully. Sharp words and abusive language passed back and forth and it was some time before order was restored. At the end of the lecture Mrs. Pitt Stevens went for Meeker with a derringer in her hand, demanding an apology, but a bystander caught hold her and compelled her to put it in her pocket. It is stated that the pistol was given to her during the excitement by Mrs. Churchill, another leading suffragist.

TORONTO, June 26—Dr Rufus Bratton, who was abducted June 4th by S. C. detectives, has been returned to the Canadian jurisdiction.

BELLEVILLE, June 24—A post mortem examination was held this afternoon on the the bodies of three who were killed by the late accident on the Grand Trunk RR. The number of deaths up to this time is thirty, including a number of lumbermen and telegraph line builders from the Province of Quebec. The Coroner's jury fully exonerates the Company and engineer from all blame, the cause being purely accidental. The engineer was a sober and efficient man and died at his post.

A Revolution in Steam Engines.

A Bangor correspondent of a Boston paper describes a rotary steam engine that has been invented by Schwartz & Leach as a most important invention. The work of a 20-horse power engine that used to work with seventy-five pounds of steam is done by this one with twenty-five pounds of steam and half the fuel. The writer adds,

The great desideratum of a rotary steam engine seems at last attained, and it so the results which will flow from it are of course incalculable. In steamboats the large and heavy 'walking beam' and heavy irons connected with it all go by the board. The large cylinders and pistons whose workings send a jar to the remotest parts of the boat now give way to the quiet workings of a 'wheel within a wheel,' with a noise and clatter scarcely louder than a sewing machine or a spinning-jenny. The absence of the cylinder and piston which all engines will enjoy will everywhere be hailed by workman and owner and passenger as a great boon, accompanied as they ever must be with the eternal clatter and jar which attend their motion. All this is done away with and in its stead is the silent working of a well-oiled shaft within its circular cylinder, with noise and jar hardly enough to be felt by the near bystander.

Then comes the saving of fuel, not more, but perhaps much less than one-half of the former amount being all that will be required. Not only this will great expense be saved in the purchase of coal, but the room and stowage left for additional freight in steamboats must be of vast importance and value. And so it will be that vast benefits will be enjoyed wherever steam power is applied, whether in the steamboat or railroad, factory or machine shop, or in any of the minor uses where the power is invoked.

The inventors have all confidence in their inventions, and have before at very large expense secured patents not only in the United States but also in England, France, Prussia and Russia, in all which countries, if they are not disappointed in the success of their machines, they are bound to gather in a rich harvest of profits.
